BEYA STEM Global Competitiveness Conference now brings you The CEU/ and PDH Certification Program

As part of our endeavor to continuously improve our professional development program for the professional attendees visiting the conference, we have reached another milestone. Partnering with one of the leading regional HBCUs, Morgan State University in Baltimore, MD, we bring you the Continuing Education Unit (CEU) and Professional Development Hours (PDH) Certification Program at the Black Engineer of the Year Conference. Attendees choosing to opt in must complete a minimum of 10 contact hours in order to qualify for the CEU Credits. There is no minimum for PDHs.

Yes, I am interested in signing up for the free CEU/PDH and PDH program offered at BEYA. Visit www.beya.org for more information on the Continuing Education Unit (CEU) Certification.

FREE!
All registered attendees can sign up for this complimentary program at the conference venue. There is no additional cost to you for signing up.
