

Subject: 2019 International Jewish Genealogy Conference

The International Jewish Genealogy Conference of the IAJGS (International Association of Jewish Genealogical Societies) will be held in Cleveland, Ohio, July 28 – Aug. 2, 2019. The conference will feature more than 200 presentations and is expected to draw close to 1000 participants from the US and around the world.

Below are links to:

* An April 12, 2019 article in the Cleveland Jewish News featuring an interview with President Ken Bravo on genealogy and the upcoming conference

https://www.clevelandjewishnews.com/news/local_news/international-genealogy-https://forward.com/culture/204417/a-report-from-the-jewish-genealogists-summer-camp-logical-conference-headed-to-cleveland/article_87ea4b10-5a15-11e9-9581-0f1deba93334.html

We would be pleased to arrange an interview for your paper with Ken Bravo or others. Contact Sandy Golden, Publicity Chair, at publicity@iajgs2019, for arrangements or additional information on the conference.

* An August 25, 2014 article published by the Jewish Forward, A Report from the Jewish Genealogists' Summer Camp by author David Laskin, giving a description of the meaningful experiences at his first conference.

<https://forward.com/culture/204417/a-report-from-the-jewish-genealogists-summer-camp>